

Parent/Child: Making a Skateboard or Longboard with Chris Gochnour June 9-10, 2012

Agenda

Day One

We will begin the weekend workshop by edge laminating various species of wood into a plank. Each plank will have unique patterns, colors and textures.

We will then re-saw the laminated planks into eighth-inch plys. Each ply will then be sanded down to 1/16-inch veneers.

The day will conclude when we laminate the skateboard deck using five maple plys for the core and our custom-laminated skins for the top and bottom of the deck. This lamination will be done using a vacuum bag and bending form.

Day Two

We will begin the day by drilling our freshly laminated decks with holes to receive the skateboard trucks. Then we will custom shape the decks to your personal preference using a band saw and sander or a template and pattern router.

After the decks are shaped, we will soften the edges using a round-over bit. A thorough sanding follows this.

If time permits, we will discuss various finishing options and may even be able to spray lacquer on the decks.

We will conclude the workshop with a demonstration on how to apply grip tape to the deck, as well as how to install the trucks and wheels.
